

$3B Advisor Team Affiliates with Cetera

Burrows Capital Management joins Cetera's Totus Wealth Management group.

By Sam Del Rowe | September 30, 2022

Cetera Financial Group says an advisor team with $3 billion in client assets has affiliated with the Cetera Advisors network via Totus Wealth Management.

Burrows Capital Advisors, based in League City, Texas, joins the Totus group from Hilltop Securities. Burrows Capital includes advisors Don Burrows, Clint Auttonberry and Michael Agol, director of operations and advisor Rolando Villarreal, and director of finance Ashley Villarreal, according to Cetera. The team serves high-net-worth, ultra-high-net-worth and institutional clients.

"We welcome the independent model that Cetera Advisors and Totus offer, which will empower us to serve our client needs above all else — without restrictions or limitations," Don Burrows said in a release announcing the move.

Burrows has been in the industry since 1993, when he registered with Westcap Government Securities. He has also been registered with Masterson Moreland Sauer Whisman, First Southwest Company, Raymond James & Associates, J.C. Bradford & Co., Wells Fargo Advisors and Hilltop Securities, according to his BrokerCheck record.

Auttonberry entered the industry 2002, when he registered with Wells Fargo Advisors. He has also been registered with Hilltop Securities, according to his BrokerCheck record.

Agol has been in the industry since 1994, when he registered with Oppenheimer & Co. He has also been registered with Dean Witter Reynolds, UBS Painewebber, Wachovia Securities, Wells Fargo Advisors and Hilltop Securities, according to his BrokerCheck record.

Rolando Villarreal's finance career began in 2019, when he registered with Hilltop Securities, according to his BrokerCheck record.

Cetera Advisors provides investment products and services to financial professionals, according to information on Cetera's website.