Subject: Decline of Human Values and the solution to preserve and foster humaneness

Dear Mayor Robyn Still,

Dear Vice-Mayor Lynn Landry, dear Councilmember Luis Gonzalez, dear Councilmember Kenny Matlock, dear Councilmember Jeff Smith,

It is well known that technological progress does not reduce the number of problems, but rather increases them, because human values do not grow in tandem with technological progress.

As the decline in appreciation and the ignoring of human values represents a great danger for all people, attention must now be paid to increasing the focus on these values.

To avoid possible problems in the future, it is advisable to conduct workshops for the leaders of the City of Marathon, its residents and also in schools.

If you are interested in human values to grow along with technological progress, open experimental classes for leaders, different age groups, students, parents, educators, residents of all walks of life.

Please, help stop the decline of human values, dear Mayor and City Councilmembers.
Together, we can bring much benevolence into our community with fostering human values.

The cause of the decline of human values in modern society is the development of an unquenchable thirst to create evil.

It is my honor to meet with you and share my humble expertise in bringing awareness about the importance of human values into all aspects of our lives that may support you to achieve your goals in the current term.
