

Dog Mum Mindset™ Disclaimer 2021

The information in the website www.dogmummindset.com is intended for information only and only you can independently decide whether or not this information is relevant to you. You should not rely on this information as a substitute or replacement for advice given by your vet, qualified clinical animal behaviourist, doctor, healthcare professional, or in the place of any other qualified professional. If you have any concerns that your dogs behaviour is a risk to any other person or animal in any situation, you should always consult with appropriately qualified behaviourists.

The use of any information is solely at your own risk. You will agree that Lauren Hewitt-Watts, Kate Carling, Dog Mum Mindset or anyone else associated with Dog Mum Mindset (as including any information under the former name of Lead with Lauren) are not responsible for any result of any kind arising from the use of this website, content, social media or any other free or paid information. You accept sole responsibility for all actions you take and we (Dog Mum Mindset, Lauren Hewitt-Watts, Kate Carling or anyone else associated with Dog Mum Mindset) accept no responsibility or liability resulting from any action taken from any free or paid information provided.