

Attaching your Halter Bridle

PLEASE NOTE: REMOVING THE LEAD ROPE COULD UNRAVEL the Fiador Knot (knot under the chin). If you wish to ride without the lead rope a Tension Loop has been included to reduce the chance of unraveling. Add the Tension Loop immediately upon removal of the lead rope. The All-In-One may stretch out without the lead rope so simply lengthen the Fiador loop to tighten. The Tension Loop pics below demonstrate how to attach it to the Fiador loop after removing the lead rope. Removing the lead rope is at your own risk

You can customize the fit of your All-In-One by enlarging the side-pull loop or making it smaller. If the side-pull loop is below the lip of your horse shorten the rope between the nose knot and the side-pull loop by pushing the rope into the side-pull loop and enlarging the loop. Repeat on the other side.

If you want to shorten the length between the chin knot (fiador knot) push the rope into the side-pull loop and pull the loop to make bigger.

To lengthen reverse the process by shortening the side-pull loop allowing longer rope thereby making a custom fit.

STEP 2

Loosen the side-pull loop by pulling the respective rope either chin or nose

STEP 1

The side-pull loop is where you adjust to lengthen or shorten under the chin or nose knot to side-pull loop

STEP 3

Make the side-pull loop bigger to shorten and larger to lengthen

Step 4

Pull both sides of the rope while holding the side-pull loop to tighten the knot
