fleet solutions

“Mantellum” is Latin for mantle which is an important role and or responsibility that is passed from one person to another - we pride ourselves on this through the wholesale, distribution and production of all your fuel and storage needs.

“Our aim is to focus on what’s important to you, keeping your business on the move.”

Who Are We?

Mantellum Petroleum Solutions has strategic partnerships with the largest oil companies in the country. We are a leading supplier of a range of petroleum products and solutions across various sectors and have delivered superior service to our customers. Our business philosophy is to progressively build relationships across all industry sectors with a reputation for superior products, service excellence and solutions to save your business money.

Providing our clients with the very best and latest petroleum solutions has been a critical focus for Mantellum. We endeavour to provide the leading products, technology and services in all our offerings and now extend this into fleet management systems, payment systems, mobile solutions and retail solutions. Our company vision has inspired us to partner with like-minded businesses who also develop innovative offerings such as our new generation fleet and fuel management solutions.

Powered by Mantellum and supported by the largest global petroleum companies, our fuel solutions offer innovative, real-time fleet monitoring solutions.

Real-time Fleet Monitoring

Mantellum now offers an innovative real-time fleet monitoring solution designed to reduce fraud, manage vehicles and cut operating costs. It offers packages suitable for commercial road transport operators, company fleets, watercraft, agricultural equipment, aircraft and motorsport through mobile applications, card or cardless methods.

Introducing our innovative solutions offers business owners the peace of mind of an expertly managed fleet, by giving them full control every kilometre and every litre of fuel used in their business. Mantellum offers a complete cashless solution to reduce every aspect of fuel fraud and mismanagement.

It gives real-time control of refuelling and vehicle management to fleet managers and vehicle owners via web portals and mobile applications. This substantially reduces operating costs. We use your existing infrastructure as far as possible to save valuable time, money and resources.

Our fuel solution is designed to take control of your fleet and fuel in an easy and convenient way, allowing you to focus on other key business priorities.

Innovative Technology

Our fleet and fuel solutions can operate using vehicle tags, mobile application, fleet card, electronic voucher or card-less methods.

The mobile fleet application is installed on the driver's smart phone or can work on old feature phones. This option is recommended for smaller fleet customers in order to keep ongoing costs low.

The fleet solution is also supported by a standard fleet card which can be issued to the driver. Our fleet cards are based on contactless technology.

Using innovative vehicle tag technology means this is a completely paperless system, offering convenience and ease of use. The tag is tamper proof and cannot be transferred to another vehicle, this reduces fraud as refuelling transactions can only take place if the vehicle is on-site.

Fuel In Tank (FIT) Security

The major benefit of the Mantellum Fuel Solution is “Fuel In Tank” security. Each of your vehicles or fuel storage tanks can be fitted with a fuel level sensing device. This device allows you to compare all vehicle and storage tank fuel levels to pump transactions in real-time. Should any previously approved threshold variance be breached, you will receive an SMS or email alert immediately.

Fleet Telematics

A fleet telematics system monitors real time vehicle location and speed, combining on-board computer data and built-in sensors to provide immediate feedback.

When signing up with Mantellum, each vehicle in your fleet can be fitted with a telematics tracking device which offers vehicle tracking via a web-based telematics portal. This means fleet managers can make operational decisions immediately.

This telematics portal offers a host of benefits. Real-time data means driver behaviour can always be monitored, and fleet managers will receive reports which highlight various problem areas and trends. The system replaces virtually all manually captured data and assists with route compliance, as well as provide actual fuel used per trip.

In addition, with the additional geo-fencing control the fleet manager will be notified when a vehicle enters or leaves the geographic fence that has been set up.

These small changes are sure to have a significant impact on day-to-day business operations.

Through ongoing innovation, Mantellum has lowered the barrier to entry to business who may not use fleet and fuel management systems. We are allowing management to move from merely tracking their vehicles to implementing comprehensive, cost effective solutions and thereby putting money straight back on the bottom line.
