Hello! I'm Shakti!

MOTIVATIONAL SPEAKER

An ex corporate professional resigns at the peak of her successful career in pursuit of a more fulfilling life. While this storyline sounds cliché, this is exactly how my life unfolded.

Educated from Carnegie Mellon and Chicago Booth, worked in Management Consulting and Banking industries for over a decade, I quickly realized that my identity and fulfillment are beyond these degrees and labels. My heart held a big lifelong void that my Spiritual Awakening in 2013 helped me discover. I opened my eyes to greater truth and initiated to walk on the path of healing and transformation.

I feel beyond grateful to live my revolutionary purpose and mission in life. The process to get here included heavy ego shedding and deep dive into my inner self to discover my true identity. It included reversing my developmental complex trauma and suicidal tendencies to really embody my aliveness and zest for life!

My grand vision is to create a healing retreat center at my 320 acre property in Tahoe National Forest in Northern California so that more people get to heal and come home to their heart.
