

Biography of Michelle A. Johnston

Michelle A. Johnston is founder and owner of MAJ Titanium who focuses on building strong people. She is an inspirational speaker, workshop presenter and author. She embodies a fierce passion for seeing people walk in their own truths and use them to propel them to purposed filled living. This passion drove her to author several books entitled, Built to Last, Life is a project, you just have to manage it!, and Lifting Elephants: A leadership guide to developing strong leaders.

Her sharp business acumen led her to procure her MBA with an emphasis on project management. She has used this degree to help organizations expand by focusing on their greatest assets, their people. Her mantra is “if you build strong people, they will build strong families, strong companies, and strong organizations”.

Despite all these amazing accomplishments, Michelle’s biggest accomplishment and greatest joy is her family. She is married to a wonderful husband and they have four beautiful children Jasmine, Jayda, Jayna, and Ronald Johnston Jr.
